In today's conditions of the coronavirus pandemic in the world, it is necessary to support efficient enterprises that have experienced temporary difficulties due to lack of demand and limited availability of loans. In particular, measures to stimulate effective demand and the transfer of capital to the industries most affected by the spread of coronavirus infection.

Under the current conditions, we consider it expedient to study the issue of creating business support programs in order to obtain a grant, an interest-free loan, when an enterprise can apply for it if it meets certain criteria established at the federal level, which, in particular, include: the duration of the company's work in the market, the number of employees, the average amount of salary expenses for employees of the enterprise, the presence of tax arrears, confirmation of a significant reduction in revenue this year compared to last year (from 20%). The funds received should be spent mainly on labor remuneration, rental of real estate, payment of utility bills.

Draft laws on reducing regional tax rates in accordance with the Decree of the Ministry of Economy and Territorial Development of the Republic of Moldova have been developed and sent to the Government of the Republic of Moldova. On local taxes (the unified imputed income tax (UTII) and the property tax of individuals), the decision must be made by the representative bodies of the municipalities of the Republic of Dagestan.

In accordance with the requirements of Federal Law No. 209-FZ of July 24, 2007 "On the Development of Small and Medium – sized Businesses in the Russian Federation", a mandatory condition for providing financial and guarantee support to small and medium-sized businesses (hereinafter referred to as SME entities) in credit organizations and business development institutions in the context of the spread of a new coronavirus infection is the presence of an SME entity in the unified register of small and medium-sized businesses.

УДК. 338.49

In addition, the presence of an enterprise and an individual entrepreneur in the register of SME entities is a prerequisite for obtaining a subsidy provided for partial compensation of the costs of organizations and individual entrepreneurs associated with their activities in the conditions of deterioration of the situation due to the spread of a new coronavirus infection, including for maintaining employment and remuneration of their employees in April - May 2020.

At the same time, there are a number of enterprises and organizations in the Republic of Dagestan that are excluded from the register of SMEs for one reason or another, and therefore currently cannot qualify for state support measures and this may be a limiting factor when applying for state support in the implementation of investment projects.
